

RIVER REVERIE.—There are still some beauty spots left in Sidcup in spite of ever-increasing building development and in this picture our photographer was able to capture the quiet atmosphere of a lazy Sunday afternoon by the river at North Cray. And what more pleasant way to spend a late summer afternoon than feeding the swans, or just wandering beneath the trees that spread their branches over this undisturbed spot?—(K.T. Photo No. DE/8708.)